Marley has turned into quite the handsome fellow!

Our boy Marley was abandoned in a crate up the road from our shelter. The crate and it's contents (Marley!), were in such deplorable condition, the staff had to use masks and gloves to even approach it! When the crate door opened, Marley stumbled out, as that was all this poor little boy could do. His fur coat was so incredibly matted, his little legs could barely move without causing him immeasurable pain and discomfort. RBARI staff members jumped into action and raced Marley to our attending Veterinarian for immediate attention and care. Marley was met with the same shock and awe from the veterinary staff, and all else was put aside at once so that they could quickly make him more comfortable. Marley was shaved down and covered with calming salve and then dressed in a cozy jacket and brought back to the comfort of a warm shelter bed to begin his recovery. It is clear that Marley was severely neglected both physically and emotionally. We have helped him fully recover medically, and now we are working on mending his broken spirit. Marley needs an owner that can provide a balanced and stable home environment for him, at the same time showing him what it feels like to be loved. The RBARI Training Staff and Volunteers have put a tremendous amount of dedicated time into working with Marley on crate training and basic obedience. He has made incredible strides and learns quickly. RBARI will provide a free private lesson to Marley's new family so that he can continue successfully to become the well-adjusted dog we know he can be. Please come visit him at the shelter. Our Volunteers would love to show you what they've taught him!
